

“I really enjoyed visiting ECCN’s Black History Month event because it gave me an opportunity to sample a lot of different food and products from across Africa. I particularly enjoyed it having been brought up in Mombasa, Kenya and was delighted to meet a couple of people who spoke Swahili. ECCN does a tremendous amount of good, solid work in Eastbourne by breaking down barriers, bringing different communities together and showing yet again that there are common characteristics across all the community groups in our town.”
